

XL Construction
Positive Products

As a General Contractor, XL Construction is committed to involving our business and our employees only with products and services that have positive societal and environmental impacts, that improve the quality of human and animal life and that make a positive contribution to community and society.

Our commitment to promoting a healthy and safe community and planet inform all our product and service purchases. We will screen and select potential products and service providers taking into consideration how they conduct their business, how they treat their employees, and how they impact their community and society.

XL Construction attests that we are not involved in the manufacture or provision of firearms, armaments, alcohol, tobacco, narcotics and other illicit drugs, pornography, fossil fuel extraction and refining, known or suspected carcinogens, Red List materials and chemicals or the nuclear industry.

Further, XL Construction is not involved in prostitution, payday lending, gambling, genetically-modified foods or patenting life. Nor does XL Construction manufacture anything that is a known or suspected carcinogen.
